Calculus

It's locker clean-out day. You've finally returned those overdue books, (give or take a few), and you even managed to smuggle a trash can from a nearby classroom. You scraped out the last of the dried gum wads with a calculator cover, and with a pen cap removed the last little bits of tape. The movie star magazine clippings, embarrassing pictures of friends, the bumper stickers --gone. Even though it has never closed quite right, your locker has been home to dozens of tattered books, broken binders, chewed-up pencils, and smelly lunches. Don't be so quick to put that lock back on -- this will be a freshman's locker now. A freshman who will gawk curiously at the graffiti inside the door, and maybe try to get a custodian to fix that hinge, just like you did four years ago. Tucked away in the corner of your locker were four years of precious memories, of friends, of teachers and of classes. The Barnacle now offers you the chance to open that door once again and unlock those memories...

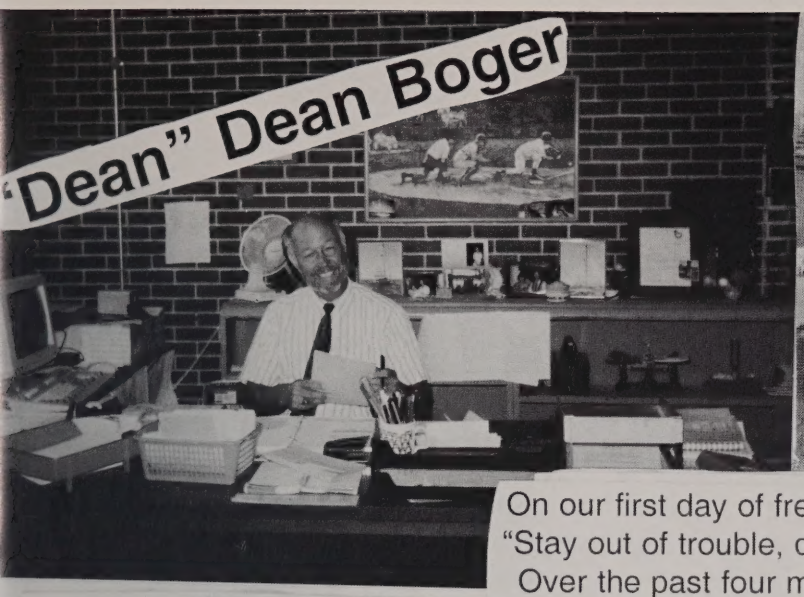
"Dean" Dean Boger



Cowboy boots

JIBs

On our first day of freshman year you told us we'd make it. "Stay out of trouble, do your homework, and you'll make it." Over the past four memory-filled years you've been there for us: football games, homecomings, car washes, and even detentions. And now it's time to part, for each a different path to follow. But down each of our paths we take with us the memories you have created for us. We will never forget you Dean Dean. Thanks for everything!

Memories

What B.H.S. teachers remember most about the senior class.

Frank Green remembers a group of extreme individualists who did not let the their individuality interfere with their caring for each other.
Mrs. Persuitte is amazed at how much they've grown and achieved.
Dr. Alexander says "There's a strong sense of pride, unity, and focus among the senior class. They walked the walk & talked the talk when it comes to the four ingredients of success— Respect, Self Discipline, Hard-Work and Fun."
Mr. Turner remembers the time when Senator Kennedy spoke to his junior US History class.
Mrs. Lawson remembers their loving interactions with the senior citizens.
Mrs. Pomeroy says "This is the first class I've seen from freshman to seniors."
Mrs. Stockhaus adds "I love the fact the kids can come to me and talk or when they need a hug."

I just want to thank all of the teachers I have had over the years for their support and guidance, as well their friendship. I would also like to thank all of my friends for their companionship and helping me get through each school day with their good humor and attitude. I tried to list everyone who's made an impact in the last four years by name, but there isn't enough room for all of those people.

Thanks, everyone.

I leave BHS crowded halls to my lower classmen. I leave Patrick two more years of disaster if he doesn't return to Michigan. I thank my friends for the rides so I didn't have to ride the loser cruser. I will never forget Eri for all the good times on the band trip we had. I had good times in my classes with JB,LB,TS,GM,and JM. I hope GM trucks still runs by the end of the year. I thank mom and dad for all the help and the rides they had given me all four years. I leave the school to JB coming next year.

High school, one of the most frustrating, intimidating times in my life, but it was also the fastest, most spectacular time too, and I'm so going to miss it. We are all going on our separate paths now . . . all trying to find happiness, and I hope you find it and do what you'll enjoy for years to come. I look back when I was a freshman and think of those words of wisdom my teachers, parents, and even my friends said . . . you were right. I want to thank all of you who put up with my grumpy self at times; my parents, my close friends, CW, TW, SL, CD, LR, AW, SS, AW, AF, JK, PJ, LH, JB, and to my closest friend who makes me laugh and cry, who I can spend every waking hour with and feel so complete, Who makes me so unselfish . . . my soul mate . . . Amanda. I love you. I'm so afraid of what is yet to come, but I know that that feeling is in all of us . . .

"There is something beautiful and uninhibited in the way a child views the world; it is a shameful thing that we lose that innocence with age." — Me

I started this out as a list of all the memories I've shared with my friends in the last four years. Then Pat, you let me read yours, and I was touched. It's incredible thinking back to all the things we've all been through together, I don't feel like it's time to go on with the rest of my life, but I suppose that's how it is. To those of you who were there, thank you for everything, whether you knew I appreciated it or not. TW, CW, AW, JR, SL, JK, all the others, and especially Pat, you all had better stay in touch with me and each other. You've each touched my life in your own ways, and I don't want to have to wonder where you all are in 10 years. Pat, you are my inspiration. It's frightening to think of all you and I have been through together, and realize you won't be just 10 minutes away in a few months. I don't know what will become of us, but I think 2004 is a Saturday if you're interested then. Promise me you'll always be there to laugh, cry, and talk with. To my family, friends, and everyone else, thank yo so very much for everything.

Tell me about your friends and I will tell you who you are.

This year was one of the most beautiful years in my life. I will always remember it. I want to say thank you for everyone in BHS, you all were friendly and kind with me, you helped me to accept new culture and new world. Especially I want to thank my friends: Vanessa and Amanda, also my teachers, because they did a lot for me. This year was really great. I hope I see you again someday. I will remember all of you.

"What will it profit a man if he gains the whole world but loses his own soul?" Mark 8:36

What this world needs is Jesus. He said "I am the way, the truth, and the life." Jesus is the only one who can bring you freedom and lasting peace. To know him and be forgiven by him is as simple as asking him to forgive you of your sins and inviting him to come into your life and be your savior and leader. Jesus is real. Your need for salvation is a reality. One day "every knee shall bow, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord."

Dear Ashley

Yesterday...You came into the world
A beautiful gift, A proud Mom & Dad.
Yesterday...You crawled, soon walked, then talked
A shining smile, you are so sweet.
Yesterday...Your first day at school - catching the bus
You looked so cute, off to adventures unknown. Now-

You're growing up...

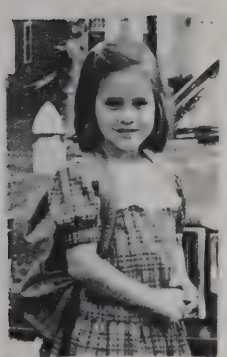
The other day...a gentle child.
Learning to play in a growing up sort of way.
The other day...Oh Dad!...Oh Mom!
Sibling challenges...I want my share too!
The other day...Hugs and Kisses, special from you.
Our love for you keeps you close when apart. Now-

You're leaving us...

So Soon...My lovely young lass with plenty of class, she's off with friends
Still learning to play and money for gas & please check the oil!
So Soon...Your hard work at school will start to pay off.
Your efforts recognized...your talents realized.
So Soon You can reach all those stars if you wish... so take care, work hard
And generously share your thoughts, those talents, your life, and your love. Now-

And forever...Enjoy Life!

We love you...Dad, Mom, Leigh Anne, Kahlil, & Barbara



Congraulations,
Sarah!

Make all your dreams come true.
Love you BIG!

WILL YOU REMEMBER

THE GOALS YOU SET?

AND WHAT WILL YOU REMEMBER MOST

THE ROAR OF THE CROWD

OR THE CHANT FOR CARLY CAN YOU HEAR STILL?

CAN YOU STILL FEEL

Cherie

And He will raise you up on eagles wings
Bear you on the Breath of Dawn
Make you shine like the Sun
And hold you in the palm of His Hand
You need not fear the terror of the night
Nor the sorrow that flies by day
Out to His Angels He's given a command
To guard you in all of your ways.
Under his wings your shelter
His faithfulness your shield,
And He will hold you in the Palm of His Hand,
Protect you forever and make you shine like the sun
To all who know you.

We will love you with all our Hearts Always,

Mom, Cindy

The Drama Club is ...
The Birth of a passion in a student's heart,
A desire to be a part of something healthy,
A need to be free within boundries,
A pride in giving for the common good,
And a hope in themselves spurred by someone who believes in them.
The Drama Club is so much more than acting.

WE CAME, WE SAW, WE MADE A YEARBOOK . . .

Thanks for buying your copy of Barnacle '99. We hope you've enjoyed reading this as much as we loved making this.

Every May, Mr. O'Toole assembles a group of 30 or so students brought together specifically for the purpose of creating the masterpiece you see before you. Mr. O'Toole strives each year to recruit a diversified group of students, and this year I can honestly say he succeeded. Of course, there is one major problem.

We fight too much.

No really. We couldn't agree on one section of the yearbook. For example, the superlatives almost produced a classroom brawl. Mr. O'Toole locked us in his room for 20 minutes and said "Figure out the superlatives," and we actually started out nicely, brainstorming ideas on the whiteboard. We didn't even veto the overly silly ones, like "Most Likely to be on 'Jerry Springer.' " Now what would be the actual superlatives? What would the students be voting for?

After a day or so of disputing over "Teacher's Pet" and "Class Diva," we narrowed it down to the select few. It wasn't easy, however. We couldn't decide on how to have the students vote, let alone how to tally the votes with as little confusion as possible. Sure, we had some issues, but in the end of that glorious superlative week, the majority was satisfied with the outcome.

Some of us are bossy. Some of us are perfectionists. Some of us had really good ideas. (Some of us didn't.) As much as we clash, we definitely had a blast making this. As one staffer says, "There's too many chiefs and not enough Indians."

But we did it. We made a yearbook.

Well, we hope you like the yearbook. You know what? We tried. Our best interest was always for the entire Class of '99, not for specific staff members or Mr. O'Toole.

I hope you can look back on this, no matter who you are, and reflect on your class and the memories that you've cherished these past four years. These are your memories, and you have created them. The Barnacle's goal is to consolidate those memories into 248 wonderful pages of portraits, candids, and write-ups. And we did it. Enjoy.

— tina g.
